

Dear AWMI Members and Metals Industry Supporters,

Get ready to ignite your professional and personal development at the AWMI Annual Conference, November 11–13, 2026, at the beautiful Marriott Savannah Riverfront in Savannah, Georgia!

This year's Conference Committee has put together what we believe will be our best Annual Conference yet.

We listened to your feedback from last year and are excited to present an agenda featuring more professional development opportunities, more stories from successful women in our industry, more educational tours, and valuable insights from leading industry experts with plenty of opportunities to network and have fun along the way.

Be sure to explore the schedule to learn more about our speakers, sessions, tours, and special events.

Registration is now open, and Early Bird pricing is available through September 4. As always, the Annual Conference offers exceptional value and an experience designed to help you connect, learn, and grow.

Invite your colleagues, industry peers, and future AWMI members to join you in Savannah!

We can't wait to welcome you this November.

Best regards,

Sarah Moran
